

The Cartoon Bird

Biking against wind
near Kiwanus Island

and a bird is actually stuck in flight above. It gives up and reverses itself instantly, like a bird in a cartoon.

Now, the wind behind, it cannot move again!
My science self takes over and I conclude it's trapped in a narrow whirlwind, a column of equi-directional air!

Suddenly it plummets to explode into Sykes creek, emerging with a fish!

As we all need to,
using conditions.
That's art, of course.
